

Question 36: (translated from French)

Can an Aboriginal nation or community develop a project in an administrative region different from where this Aboriginal nation or community, recognized by the Government of Quebec, is located?

Answer 36:

This question concerns the block of 250 MW of wind energy from Aboriginal projects.

The answer to the question is no, unless the project is developed in partnership with another Aboriginal nation (or Aboriginal community or Aboriginal institution) having control of the project and located in the administrative region where the project is located.
