

Question 51:

If a potential bidder has already registered for the RFP and then the registered bidder sells its assets to another party, is a new registration required by the new party or can the existing registration be transferred to the new party?

Answer 51:

In the case of a sale of assets (i.e. without acquiring the registered company), a new registration is required for the new party, unless the new party is already registered or intends to submit bids in partnership with duly registered companies.
